

APPENDIX TO CAPITAL CONNECTION FUND GUIDELINES

National Conferences

Here is a selected list of national conferences, sorted by topic (a few international conferences are also listed). This list focuses on conferences that occur on a regular basis, and is by no means comprehensive. A good source of information about upcoming public health conferences and conference websites is at http://phpartners.org/conf_mtgs.html. Most conferences offer discounted student registration rates and many offer scholarships to students.

Please note that while most conferences usually occur at approximately the same time of year, dates do vary somewhat from year to year. Please use the general abstract deadlines as a guide and check the websites provided for updates. In general, abstracts are usually due 4-9 months before the conference is held. Abstract deadlines for “late breakers” are generally due closer to the date of the conference. Most conferences offer discounted student registration rates and many offer scholarships to students. You can also check with faculty in your department for ideas about other conferences that may be suitable for your paper.
