| Pastimes I danced for the majority of my childhood and throughout high school. I was very involved in extra-curricular activities in high school and try to maintain that level involvement here at GW. | | |
| My Future Goals I am looking into medical school and possibly a career in Orthopedics, maybe even surgery. I would love to combine my love for dance with medicine by possibly working for a dance company or team. | | |
| What's best about the School of Public Health and Health Services at GW In the School of Public Health and Health Services, I am able to fulfill my pre-medical requirements while taking classes that are specialized towards my interests. Because I know that I have a definite interest in Sports Medicine and would like to continue my studies in the field, taking Exercise Science classes enables me to specialize my studies and learn more about the field which I hope to one day practice within. | | |
| What's best about living in the Washington, DC Area I come from New York and spend a lot of time in New York City, so I am used to a busy city life. DC has the best of both worlds when it comes to suburban and urban, because although there is a definite city feel and pace around GW, there is also a quieter, enclosed campus atmosphere. Being a lover of the arts, I really enjoy having free museums and performance spaces within walking distance. Everything you need is either in walking distance or a stop away on the metro, so the entire city is completely accessible to students. | | |

My message to applicants

I absolutely love this school and could not be happier with my decision to join. The School of Public Health and Health Services is a perfect fit for students who are looking for a career in healthcare, especially for athletes or those interested in working with physically active individuals. I find the school incredibly personal. I am able to form connections and relationships with my professors and fellow classmates because of the smaller nature of the school within the larger university. I would be more than willing to answer any questions regarding the school or GW in general.
